

2 February 2020

Dear Community Member

Further to our update on Friday, we are continuing the re-start of our operations.

There is the potential for some elevated flaring as we introduce more feed gas to bring equipment online.

Our team has successfully contained required flaring to the ground flare throughout the re-start and will continue to do so, wherever possible.

We will keep you updated on any developments.

Regards

Jacob McAlister
Plant Manager
