

24 January 2020

Dear Community Member

We remain on schedule to begin the use of our elevated flare from tomorrow.

The exact time is based on the arrival of the required feed gas.

Our team are working hard to optimise the process with the aim of reducing flare size and duration.

We will continue to provide updates over the weekend.

Should you have any questions, please let us know.

Regards

Jacob McAlister
